

HIGH DHA FOR EARLY MACULAR SUPPORT

The macula, the vision-critical tissue in the back of the eye, can decline over time. Studies show that daily intake of Omega-3s (EPA & DHA), lutein and zeaxanthin help to protect the health of the macula before any signs of decline are visible.

nūmaquila omega-3:

- » Contains high amounts of DHA needed for patients requiring early macular support
- » Provides 1440mg of DHA and 400mg of EPA in a form that makes it easier to absorb
- » Should be taken daily on a long-term basis for maximum macular support
